

Please leave XM alone. They wouldn't be in business if there were not a need for the programming they provide. Every time government gets evolved things fall apart just after that. Satellite TV is struggling now because they now have to carry local channels... before I could watch the east coast feed from the west.

Let free enterprise and the market place dictate the industry...

Thanks, Ray